Willamette Valley Genealogical Society Meeting Day!

- Time: April 9, 2022, 10:30 am to 1 pm
- Place: Veterans of Foreign Wars Building, 630 Hood St NE, Salem, Oregon
Park in the parking lot across the street on Hood Street.
The entrance has stairs, but there is a ramp on the west side.
- 10:30 am – 11:45 am General Membership Meeting.

A business meeting will be held to conduct society business.

12 noon – 1 pm Program: Pam Hutchinson, a WVGS member, will be presenting "I did the DNA test.

Now What???" She describes the intent of the class as "making the most of DNA results 101". After reviewing some basic terminology Pam will focus on the process of converting unknown "DNA matches" into confirmed family tree members. She will describe her months long project attempting to "prove" the identity of her 4th great grandfather, as well as presenting "how to" information about finding and using a variety of tools. If you are wondering whether DNA testing might be useful, Pam's program will show you that it can be. If you are overwhelmed by the jargon, she will help you get through it. If you are familiar with using DNA tools you will probably still discover new resources!

We hope you will join us. WVGS programs are always open to the public.

There will be a Board meeting on Thursday April 7, 2022 at 11:30 at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, 630 Hood St NE, Salem, Oregon. Members are welcome.

President's Report for March by Liz Tice, President

We plan on returning to Salem Public Library for our meetings, but for the near future we will continue meeting at the VFW Hall. We want to give a big thank you to member Kerry Wymetalek for allowing us to meet there. The good news is there are now 3 hours of free parking at the Library Parkade! Thank you to our volunteers for all coming back! We now have volunteers working Tuesday through Saturday, 11 am to 5 pm.

We now have a secure website (https) so members will be able to pay dues for 2023 online through PayPal. Payments for research, publication sales and donations will also be able to be paid online. We don't have PayPal set up yet though.

I want to welcome new members Susan Proch of Liverpool, NY; Carolina Mendoza of Salem; and Kathy Valdez of Mt. Angel, OR.

We are still waiting to hear from the City of Salem about our suggestions for changes to the agreement between the City and WVGS. Craig Smith and Bill Lenzke are working on our volunteer laptops to add links and databases for the volunteers. Local patrons can stop by our genealogy desk for help on research.

Craig Smith is working on interesting and varied articles for the next issue of Beaver Briefs. He is also contributing articles to the online local news site, Salem Reporter.

We really need a Public Relations officer. Please consider volunteering.

Oregon State Capitol

The Oregon State Capitol will be closed to the public beginning July 1, 2022 and will likely not reopen to the public in its current capacity until January, 2025.

As you may be aware, the building has been undergoing construction and maintenance for the past four years. The name of the project is CAMS (Capitol, Access, Maintenance and Safety). At the end of the 2022 legislative session, the next phase of the construction project (CAMS 3) was passed. This means, the main historical structure will now undergo some of the same seismic retrofitting and upgrades that the 1977 hearing rooms and legislative offices received during the past two years. Effective May 1, the ground floor (concourse level) will be closed to the public. As of now, the target closure for the entire building will be July 1, but that is actually an estimated date so it may be before then, but not after.

United States, Index to Indian Wars Pension Files - FamilySearch Historical Records

Pension files sometimes give you invaluable information on your ancestor, but may be hard to find, such as pensions for Indian War Veterans. But there is an index on FamilySearch, then the files have to be ordered from the National Archives. From FamilySearch:

"The collection consists of a card index to pension files located at the National Archives for service in the Indian Wars between 1817 and 1898. The files are part of Record Group 15 Records of the Veterans Administration and is NARA microfilm publication T318. Pensions were first granted to veterans and widows with thirty days service between 1832 and 1842 in the Black, Hawk War, Cherokee Disturbances and Florida War. Later pension acts included additional conflicts."

You can browse through images in this collection using the waypoints on the Collection Browse Page for United States, Index to Indian Wars Pension Files, 1892-1926.

Copies of pension files are available from the National Archives. Use NATF 85B, cost is $30.

Public or private tree on Ancestry.com?

This is one of the first decisions Ancestry.com asks you to make when you create your family tree. Indicating your preferred sharing status is as simple as checking a box, but it's not a trivial decision.

Should my Ancestry family tree be public or private?

There are very good reasons to consider both public and private options. Your decision should be based on your own personal preferences and situation. The good news is, you'll always be able to switch your tree's status from public to private (or vice versa) in the future if you change your mind – but let's take a moment to dive into each of the available options so that you can make the best choice for your tree.

- The biggest benefit of having a public tree is the opportunity to find and collaborate with other people who are researching your family.
- Public trees on Ancestry are just that — open to the public for viewing. This means that anyone who logs into Ancestry and comes across your tree can see the deceased individuals you've included, along with all of the information you've entered and documents or photos you've attached. As the Ancestry disclaimer says, anyone you've marked as "living" in your tree will be hidden, and their information will not appear in searches. Additionally, anything you've added to an individual's "Notes" section will also be hidden from view.
- Some people keep their trees private and non-searchable because they don't want other people to save the photos or documents they've uploaded to their tree. Or because they do not want people copying their work in any form (whether complete or in progress and likely to change).
- Private, searchable Ancestry trees will still show up in searches, but only with limited information.
